- Expected Recovery: $4,200 across portfolio

PATTERN 2: Premium Snacks (Snickers, Reeses, Butterfinger)

- Frequency: 52% of locations report premium candy as top item
- Root Cause: Impulse theft; visible display; portable; high margin resale

- Expected Recovery: $3,100 across portfolio

PATTERN 3: RTD Beverages (Starbucks, Core Power)

- Frequency: 28% of locations
- Root Cause: Brand recognition; established secondary market; higher price point ($4-6)
- Solution: Locked cooler; staff verification system; limited shelf stock
- Expected Recovery: $2,800 across portfolio

PATTERN 4: Coke/Pepsi/Soft Drinks (20oz cans)

- Frequency: 81% of high-risk locations
- Root Cause: High demand; easy resale; portable; less monitoring than premium items
- Solution: Display cooler lock; reduced impulse-access shelf stock; staff presence
- Expected Recovery: $5,400 across portfolio

PATTERN 5: Specialty Items (Electronics, OTC Meds, Alcohol)

- Frequency: 18% of locations
- Root Cause: Higher unit value; organized retail crime; pharmaceutical demand
- Solution: Behind-counter sales only; ID verification; cameras with zoom; police coordination
- Expected Recovery: $2,200 across portfolio
